Example That firstly Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ is the source of all Rizq and it is Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ that has fulfilled your need. So when one spends money recalling and being in the presence of this name one can deeply ponder on all of that dependencies out of their control that Allah has facilitated that has led the person to eat, spend or work - and what a seeker will realize is that it is purely from the fadl of Al-Razaq and Al-Mutee that they have blessed a person and that the seeker is in no ownership of anything.	Example The seeker should bring in the presence of Al-Alim and Al-Hakim. Know that knowledge does not come from the self but from Al-Alim and Al-Hakim and imagine that a light is penetrating a persons heart and mind from the blessed sifats of Allah during these actions and that any knowledge entering a person or leaving a person is purely from Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ and not from themselves.	Example When a seeker does a good deed, act of service or any act where the desire of the Nafs feels that it wants appreciation from the creation and recognition the seeker should bring in the presence of Al-Shakur and Al-Khabeer. Deeply pondering that Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ is Al-Khabeer and is all aware of every action, intention, feeling and thought. If the king of all kings is aware then what value does the awareness of a servant have compared to the king?	Example When a seeker advises, instructs, manages, leads in any aspect of ones life. A person should deeply ponder that firstly Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ is Al-Qahar but inspite of Allah's power and dominance how many people still disobey Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ. So who are we to demand power and authority over others and force them? Secondly a seeker should deeply ponder on the real owner of all power and authority is Al-Malik and that a person is just a means to serve the hukm of Al-Malik.	Example When planning / when thinking of the future Be in the presence of Al-Awal and Al-Akhir, that perhaps a person plans but Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ is beyond time and space, that they see what is best for us and that time is in their control. Example 2 When reflecting on ones own unique qualities and abilities A seeker should reflect on how Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ has uniquely originated the seeker wholly unique from any other creation and any other servant, and is the originator of every unique gift a person has through Al-Badee	Example A seeker should be in the presence of Al-Raqeeb, and Al-Mujeeb that a seeker is never alone and no speech of the seeker to Allah goes without being listened to and responded by Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ. Secondly a seeker should ponder on that with people you have to pick an appropriate time to speak with them, but what to say about the king of all kings, who responds to you at any moment? A person should ponder that any love received by the creation is really a extension and reflection from Al-Wadud - that it is the love of Allah عَزَّ وَجَلَّ that has inspired a person to love another person, be it a mother for a child, or a husband for his wife. One should be in the presence of Al-Wadud and realize every blessing is an extension and expression of Allahs love for his servant.
